NEW TO THE NEIGHBORHOOD

4401 Wilson Blvd., Arlington www.vapiano.de

In a first for international diplomacy, hungry Ballstonians will soon be able to dine on designer Italian cuisine prepared with Bavarian efficiency (no passport required).

Vapiano, a German-born outfit specializing in "fast, casual Italian food"—think gourmet pizzas and multi-faceted pastas prepared amidst art-deco designs—is moving across the pond to woo the previously untapped American audience. Along with companion outposts set to debut in neighboring Washington, D.C., Vapiano will unveil its first Virginia location this winter at the intersection of Wilson Boulevard and Glebe Road.

The menu promises over a dozen European-style pizzas ranging from the basic (tomatoes, mozzarella) to the bold (roasted veal, tuna cream, capers), along with a similar slate of signature pasta dishes. A company breakdown suggests average checks run about $13.50 per person, and notes that customers place their orders via a computerized "chip card" that is read at the restaurant's various automated serving stations. Open for lunch daily.—WR
